

An EcoSystem Designed for Healthcare Organizations

A complete ecosystem addressing the toughest challenges in healthcare technology.

Secure Virtual Desktops

Fast and flexible access allows healthcare professionals to take their endpoint device from room-to-room allowing for a more fluid, versatile approach to patient care and administrative functions. VDI can be a game changer when you're an on-the-go provider dealing with information for multiple patients. Access to Electronic Medical Records (EMR) systems is critical. Eliminate the indirect cost of lost from failed log-ins and downtime; RackTop VDI solutions deliver high-performing desktops to healthcare providers on any device within minutes without increasing desktop management burdens and reducing the TCO of desktops.

Data Storage for Picture Archiving Communications Systems (PACS)

With RackTop's BrickStor and integrated cloud platform providers can gain secure access to medical images from anywhere to improve patient outcomes. RackTop's data ecosystem with cloud-connected on premises storage includes data protection policies to ensure your data is protected, available and where it needs to be without human intervention or additional licenses further ensuring quality patient care and compliance with Joint Commission storage requirements and government mandates.

Scalable Storage and Data Management for EMR and HER

The data ecosystem is the perfect storage platform for medical records and diagnostic results, including Electronic Medical Records (EMR), Electronic Health Records (EHR), Health Information Exchanges (HIE), and the Nationwide Health Information Network (NIHN). myRack Manager provides unified administration from a single interface to manage your data across geographies without interruption.

RACKTOP SYSTEMS

Delivers optimized solutions which reduce information technology costs, accelerate technology modernization and improve technology processes to accelerate improvements in patient care.

Our solutions offer fast, secure, reliable access to data at any time and from any location. The digital data explosion has created more challenges and responsibilities for data management and compliance. RackTop is the industry leader for effortless data management which eliminates the need for human intervention, provides defense grade security and encryption, and delivers revolutionary visibility into your data and usage patterns to your organization.

